

AASCU's American Democracy Project presents a World101 Summit

Monday, November 15
from 1:00 p.m. – 4 p.m. ET via Zoom
Register now

Schedule of Speakers

1 p.m. ET	Welcome and Brief Remarks Don Betz, American Association of State Colleges and Universities Charles Hopkins, Council on Foreign Relations Courtney Wood, Council on Foreign Relations
1:30 p.m. ET	World101 to World301: Strategies for using World101 in upper-division course toolkit Lisa Glidden, SUNY Oswego Susan Jagendorf-Sobierajski, SUNY Cobleskill Niall Michelsen, Western Carolina University Jessica Traylor, Gordon State University
Discussion Break
2:15 p.m. ET	Developing and Enhancing Education Abroad Through World101 JY Zhou, Stockton University
2:25 p.m. ET	Using DBQ as a Way to Support Civics-based Instruction Amber Godwin, Sam Houston State University
2:35 p.m. ET	Cross-cultural Online Collaboration for Pre-service Teachers Civic Literacy Education Andrey Koptelov, Sam Houston State University
Discussion Break
3 p.m. ET	International Cross-Cultural Experiential Learning Evaluation Toolkit Susan Jagendorf-Sobierajski, SUNY Cobleskill
3:10 p.m. ET	Research Proposal to Evaluate Global Literacy at Lock Haven University Steven Granich, Lock Haven University Gérard Martorell, Lock Haven University
3:20 p.m. ET	Integrating World101 in General Education Across the Disciplines Jean Abshire, Indiana University Southeast Quinn Dauer, Indiana University Southeast
3:40 p.m. ET	Closing Remarks